A QUICK WELCOME

Thank you for reading Florida Signal's debut edition. I'm AJ Gill, a veteran journalist building a record-first Broward development briefing that will arrive at least weekly. 01 THE SIGNALS

Four Fort Lauderdale decisions today: $2.9M in CRA money and the Shader site plan

At 1 p.m., Fort Lauderdale's Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) Board takes up nearly $2.9 million across three items: a $2.5 million Holy Cross incentive, Queen Progress's $193,500 conversion grant and $189,952 in Central City planning money. At 6 p.m., the City Commission votes on the Shader Retail site plan. Both meetings are at the police department on West Broward Boulevard. Here's what each action could move, what stays unresolved, and the record behind it.

1 p.m.

Fort Lauderdale CRA Board

WATCH LIVE →

Holy Cross · $2.5M incentive vote

Public money would help finance the underway $57.3M outpatient and emergency campus; the subsidy terms are the news, not the project.

LIMIT · An incentive vote, not a new construction announcement.

PROGRESSO VILLAGE · 200 E. SUNRISE BLVD.

Queen Progress · $193.5K grant vote

Public funding could convert a small industrial space to active retail use; we found no earlier coverage of the grant.

LIMIT · A grant vote is not an opening or a completed conversion.

MIDDLE RIVER TERRACE · 603 NE 13TH ST.

Central City · $189,952 planning contract

The planning consultant would shape the area's next land-use framework for density, uses and infrastructure.

LIMIT · Does not change zoning or approve development today.

CENTRAL CITY · REDEVELOPMENT AREA

Fort Lauderdale City Commission

Shader Retail · site plan and alternative design vote

Approval would clear the entitlement step for a five-parcel retail expansion; our checks found no prior reporting on the decision.

LIMIT · Approval is not a construction start; permits would still be next.

Ombelle staging · competitive-process decision

Access to the public lot could affect construction logistics for the active 754-unit tower and raises a public-land value question.

LIMIT · The County is not awarding or transferring the property Thursday.

FLAGLER VILLAGE · 400 NE 4TH ST.

Agendas checked Aug. 17 · times and items can change

Also today: Fort Lauderdale sets Oct. 6 hearings on moving two public parcels toward Community Redevelopment Agency control: the Sylvia H. Alridge post office at 400 NW 7th Ave. and 1306 NW 6th St. Both sit in the Northwest-Progresso-Flagler Heights district. No conveyance or redevelopment is approved today. Open the agendas →

02 THE PROOF

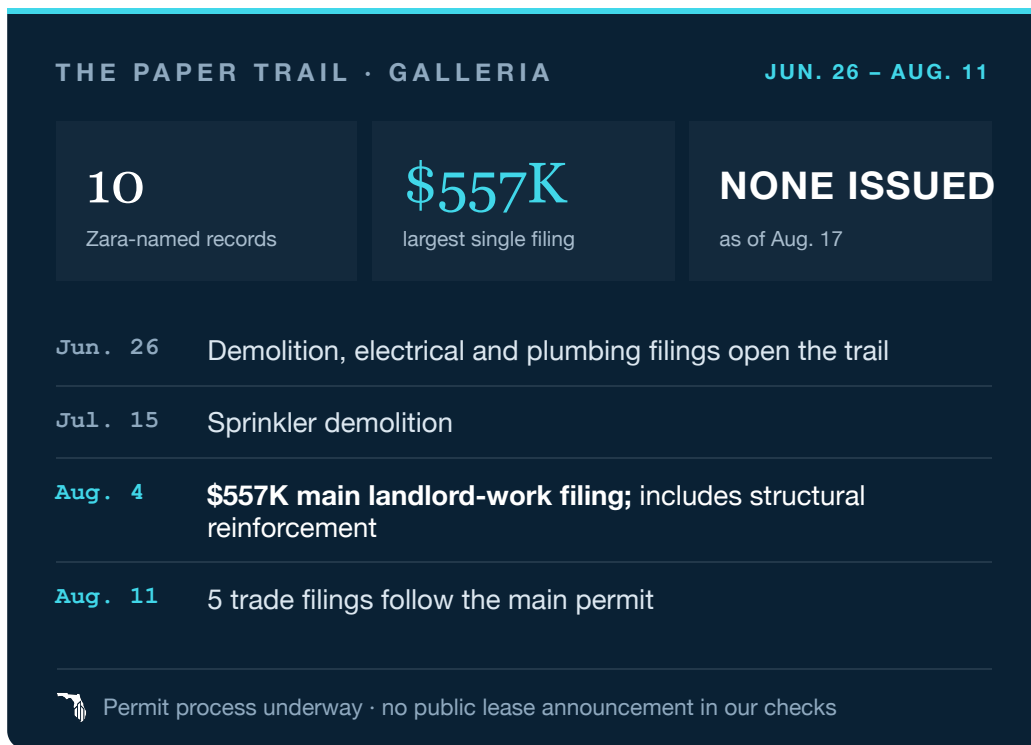

ADVANCE

Ten permit records trace Zara work at Galleria's empty anchor

2442 E. Sunrise Blvd. · Galleria / East Sunrise Boulevard

Ten Fort Lauderdale permit records filed June 26 through Aug. 11 name the Spanish fast-fashion retailer Zara, owned by Inditex, in landlord-work descriptions for the Galleria's former Neiman Marcus building, empty of permanent retail tenants since the store closed in 2020. The permit process is underway; none had been issued as of Aug. 17, and no public lease announcement surfaced in our checks. Zara's official store locator lists seven Florida locations, four in Miami-Dade and none in Broward.

WHAT CHANGED

The trail starts June 26 with interior-demolition, electrical and plumbing filings at unit Z17. A sprinkler-demolition filing followed July 15. On Aug. 4, a $556,991 main permit described landlord work to prepare the empty retail space, including selective structural reinforcement; five trade applications followed Aug. 11. The filings cover overlapping work, so their declared values should not be added together. Open the \$557K main permit →

WHY IT MATTERS

The locator shows Aventura Mall in Miami-Dade as the nearest listed South Florida location. The long-vacant anchor sits inside the Galleria's mall-wide mixed-use repositioning. Wayfair has separately announced a 2027 store. Neither announcement names Zara. The permits establish what was filed with the city, not what is signed.

WHAT WE DON'T KNOW

Whether a lease is signed; the proposed store size, format or opening timetable. BCPA measures the entire building at 96,748 square feet; that is not a Zara-space figure. As of Aug. 17, Florida Signal found no public Zara, Inditex or Galleria announcement naming this address. We also found no indexed prior report.

03 THE MONEY

Two known sales supplied 51% of the week's recorded dollars

Broward Clerk records show 106 Fort Lauderdale deeds recorded Aug. 3–9 with nearly $205 million in stated consideration, the amount reported on the deeds rather than an appraisal. Two deeds, the $59.95 million Sea Club transfer and the $44.8 million three-parcel Holman Honda transfer, carried $104.75 million combined. Commercial Observer and the South Florida Business Journal previously reported the transactions.

The concentration is the story, but not the whole story. The other 104 deeds carried about $100 million. Not every recorded deed is an open-market sale, so this measures filing activity, not a market-price index. Source: Broward County official records.

Two WREV deeds recorded Aug. 5 list a combined $7.482 million for adjacent industrial parcels: 1610 S. Dixie Highway at $5.1 million and 1500 S. Dixie Highway at $2.382 million. The buyers, WREV Industrial VI and VII, list Tyler Workman as manager and share a West Palm Beach address. Workman is WREV's founding principal; the firm targets $3 million to $35 million industrial deals.

The pair gives owners, tenants and brokers a defined block to watch for permits, construction notices, lease changes or further purchases. The records do not establish buyer intent or a combined redevelopment plan. Open the block in Google Maps →
